LIVE WASHINGTON TOPICS. DEBATE ON THE FISHERIES TREATY

Senator Genere Concludes a Long Speech In aver of the Treaty and Senator Dotph Makes a Strong Argument Arabast It-Action by the Squate on the Turiff Likely to be Put Off until the December Session.

WASHINGTON, July 13 .- Senator George finished his long speech in favor of the fisheries treaty to-day, after talking for more than three hours. In addition to two hours spent on the same subject yesterday. Senator George is a very vigorous speaker, and he was about as fresh to-day when he closed as when he began. He kept a glass of lemonade on his desk, from which he took frequent sips, and

The control of the co waters and the British waters; and, second, as to what we's crossonable restrictions necessary to prevent American lishermen from abusing their privileges under the treaty. Great Britain claimed that the line of delimitation should be measured three miles to the sourced from a line drawn from headland to be adiand of all lays and guilfs; while the beadland of all lays and guilfs; while the United States Insisted that me line should be the beadland of all son where the distance from headland to headland was three miles or less. The United States had always insisted upon its claim, and Great Britain had never, except in the cases of the Washington and the Argus attempted to enforce the headland theory. It was proposed by the pending treaty to surrender the American claim to reciprocate commercial privileges for American flashermen with the ampiant remission of duties to the amount of $1,000,000. He said that under the arrancement with Great Britain in 1830. American girvileges for American flashermen with the annual remission of duties to the amount of $1,000,000. He said that under the arrancement with Great Britain in 1830. American girvileges in British colonial borts. If this were not aco, the United States should say to Canada. "With what judgment you judge, you shall be judged, and with what measure you mere, it shall be measured to you gazin." Commercial privileges to general sevent of the continuous shall be measured to you gazin. The office of the continuous shall be measured to you gazin. The office of the creaty on political grounds, or it he were to you for it because, as has been charged, the President would, if it were rejected, execute the act of March 3, 1887, so as to bring bank-ruptey upon the country, or because, as habeen intimated upon the other side of the chamber, the rejection of the treaty would be made a retext for a declaration of war by Great Britain, be would be unworthy of his position as a Senator. The only American barries and the process of the United States and with the united St

Spect of other nations.

Mr. Pugh (Dem., Ala.) gave notice that he would not ress the Senate on the fishery treaty on Monday next. Senator Edmunds has weakened materially in his willingness to secure the early confirmation of Meliville W. Fulier. An arrangement ton of Meiville W. Faller. An arrangement had been made to have the nomination taken from the calendar yesterday and acted upon. This was not done, presumably for the reason that no executive session was held; but it appears that Mr. Edmunds is not anxious, and was not vesterday, to have the confirmation cutract carried out. He has discovered new causes for delay, and at his request or demand, as the case may be action on the nomination has been postponed until next week, with the understanding that on Tuesday or Wednesday it will be taken up for consideration. The Democratic Senators are greatly annoyed at the repeated postponements of this case, but as Mr. Edmunds controls the Republican magnity on all matters coming from the Judiciary Committee, they are helpless in the matter.

The published statement of Senator Mc-Pherson, a member of the Senate Committee on Finance, that Congress would remain in tession until Oct, I in order to afford opportunity for an extended discussion of the tariff question in the Senate, created much tails at the tagitof to day. No Senator or Representative rould be found to agree entirely with Mr. Pherson, and at are at a loss to understand what he could have meant by such a statement. The general column is 10 at he was united to the defined that he could have meant by such a statement. The general column is 10 at he was united to him, and which he defines thus in the action of the Attorney-General sub-equently shows, a case where operate working of her can directly intercess, that duty devoting on the District Attorney or leaf to any control to the law in the last of the law of the constitutionality of the law is an earn problem in the sub-edge of the constitutionality of the law is a clark of the law in the last of the law is an earn problem in the sub-edge of the law is an earn problem. on Finance, that Congress would remain in session until Oct, I in order to afford opportunity for an extended discussion of the tariff question in the Senate, created much talk at the Capitol to-day. No Senator or Representative could be found to agree entirely with Mr. McPherson, and at are at a loss to understand what he could have meant by such a starement. The general opinion is that he was either ones noted or that the made his prediction as a loke. Even the Congressmen who are not starered in a thorough discussion of the tariff starers of an attorning the session become the Mills bill passes the House do not the any good reason for prolonging the session become the Mills bill passes the House do not the any good reason for prolonging the session become think that adjournment will have taken follows the Mills bill passes the House do not have the Aug. 10 Senator McPherson's opinion could hardly have been derived from information received from his colleagues on the Finance Committee, for nearly all of them are inclined to the belief that the Senate bill, which is to be reported as a substitute for the Mills measure, will either he voted upon without a prolonged discussion or placed on the calendar, not to be disturbed until lecember, Just what to do with the Senatorial bill when prepared is what is bothering the depublic of passes of the subscannific character in the server analogs of the subscannific character in the subscannific character in the server analogs of the subscannific character in the subscannific chara rather disposed to pass at this session, and are rather disposed to press the Republican bill to a vote and let the Mills bill die in the Senate committee. Others think there should be plenty of talk but no action, and others again, and they are probably in the majority, think that as soon as the Mills bill comes to the Sen-ate the Finance Committee's bill should be placed on the calendar and an adjournment ordered. The impression is growing about the Senate that this is the programme that will be carried out.

The President has granted a pardon to Joseph E. Kavanagh, convicted of a violation of the mail laws by quitting the mail left in his charge, and sentenced in June, 1888, to three months' imprisonment and $10 fine. The months' imprisonment and $10 fine. The President has commuted to eight months' imprisonment in jail the sentence of William P. McKee, convicted in the Western District of North Carolina of robbing a Post Office and sentenced in May, 1888, to two years' imprisonment at hard labor in the penicentiary at Columbus, Ohio.

The President has accepted the resignation of the Hon. George V. N. Lathrop. United States Minister to Russia, to take effect Aug. 1. Mr. Lathrop is not in good health.

ALBANY, July 13 .- Attorney-General Tabor has rendered an opinion, affirming, in his view, tices, Andrew Walsh, Thomas J. Kenna, Fredthe constitutionality of the McEvoy Grain Ele-vator bill, of which Gov. Hill in his memoran-previous conference had shown that the ofdum approving the bill expressed some doubt. A case was brought before the Attorney-tieneral by Capt. Dupuy, representing canal and lake forwarders, to the effect that "the Western Elevating Association of Buffalo is making an overcharge of lour-tenths of a cent a bushel for a direct transfer of grain from vessels to canal boats." This, even if proved, is not, as the Attorney-General sub-equently shows, a case where he can directly interpose, that duty de-yolving on the District Attorney of Eric to unity, but he takes occasion to express his general view of the constitutionality of the law. He restuired to take the only steps which are perfulsible to him, and which he defines thus:

The action of the Atterney denser can be of use only in a case where corporations are acting in violation of their charter or of some I will you allocate combination or otherwas to which action they have in some way foriched their charter of rights. In I it may be shought advante in depress of the charter of the source of the charter of classification should be obtained or in case where persons have assumed in act in a corporate capacity without any right so to be a judement could be obtained for any right so to be a judement could be obtained for straining them from so doing.

He adds that an examination in the Secretary of State's office fails to show that the Western Elevating Association has ever finel pupers of incorporation there. If it has done so chewhere and can thus be shown to be limber to the action of the Attorney General as a corporation, or is assuming to have corporate powers, or is made up of a combination of certeral the maps with the intent and surpose of vicinities that it is a case of action in the starks it would be a case of action of the fails to the sections and all combining to facility under the maps with the intent and surpose of vicinities that we will be a case of action of the fails to the section of the starks it would be a

Until to-day the movement in Reading has been simply in unison with the rest of the list. It has shown no decided tendency of its own. But the advance in the schedule prices of anthracite coal, which has been agreed upon by the principal producers, stimulates speculation in all of the coal properties.
